

Publication	Page	Date
Economic Times (Mumbai)	4	17 May 2010

YO! EVERYWHERE

A cartoon illustration of a man with a black cap and a red jacket, smiling and holding a yellow plate. He is standing in front of a green map of India.

YO! CHINA, A Delhi-based Chinese restaurant chain, is cooking up some big expansion plans. The brand, which is also present in express-delivery and roadside carts formats, plans to launch 15 restaurants, 20 delivery stores and 35 carts by the end of the current fiscal year. At present, it has 45 restaurants, two delivery stores and 35 carts across 14 cities. "The plan is to be accessible to as many consumers as possible. We will also look at opening our first international restaurant by the end of the year and are eyeing Mauritius, Middle East and South Africa as one of the possible destinations," Ashish Kapur, MD, Yo! China told ET.